MARLY ESTATE
Since 2006, Marly National Estate has been a part of the Estate of Versailles. It lies 7km north-west of Versailles and is another major creation of King Louis XIV, designed by Jules Hardouin-Mansart from 1679 onwards. The Estate is open to the public free of charge and is currently being restored with the support of the local authorities.

Access via Entrance A

- GALLERY OF THE HISTORY OF THE PALACE
11 rooms devoted to the history of the creation of the Palace of Versailles (works, models, videos, etc.).

- STATE APARTMENTS (HALL OF MIRRORS, THE KING’S CHAMBER)
The ceremonial apartments of the Kings of France, at the heart of the Palace and the life of the Court.

- MESDAMES’ APARTMENTS
The apartments of the daughters of Louis XV, this lavishly furnished double apartment bears testimony to the refinement of Versailles in the 18th century.

- LOUIS XIV ROOMS
A broad overview of the 17th century presenting the King, his family, the Court and the major events of the time. Open intermittently.

- GALLERY OF BATTLES
Left over from the Museum of the History of France created by Louis-Philippe in the 19th century, this gallery celebrates all the French dynasties through some thirty monumental paintings. Open intermittently.

EXHIBITIONS HELD IN THE PALACE

PALACES OF TRIANON AND MARIE-ANTOINETTE’S ESTATE
Admission with the Passport or Palaces of Trianon ticket

UNACCOMPANIED VISITOR CIRCUITS*:
Access all year round via the Grand Trianon or Petit Trianon. Access via the gate of the Farm in high season

- GRAND TRIANON
A pink marble palace built by Louis XIV in 1670 as a place to meet his lover Madame de Montespan, the Grand Trianon remained very much a private palace from Napoleon through to Charles de Gaulle.

- PETIT TRIANON
Set in English-style landscaped gardens, the Petit Trianon holds tender memories of Queen Marie-Antoinette who made it her refuge from the pomp and circumstance of the Court.

- QUEEN’S HAMLET
With its rustic workshops set around the Lake, Marie-Antoinette’s village was inspired by Enlightenment philosophy and recreates the charms of country life on the eve of the Revolution.

- GRAND TRIANON GARDENS, FRENCH GARDEN, ENGLISH GARDEN

EXHIBITIONS HELD IN THE GRAND TRIANON

GARDENS AND GROVES
Access free of charge, except on Musical Fountains Show and Musical Gardens days

Laid out by André Le Nôtre, the gardens of Versailles with their flowerbeds, groves, statues and fountains, are the perfect example of the French-style formal garden.

MUSICAL FOUNTAINS SHOW AND MUSICAL GARDENS
Tuesdays and weekends from April to October. Admission with the Passport.

Admission with Musical Fountains Show and Musical Gardens Tickets (on sale at entrance to the gardens).

* Except exceptional closing days.
